NEWSLETTER

Grade 10

2021-22

From the Principal's Desk

Term 1 has whizzed by, filling us with new learning, resilience and hope. We worked a few months from September 2021 and then closed again after Christmas. We now hope February stays steady into March and laughter and togetherness prevail!

Meanwhile, a cycle of study, tests and Board Exams have been completed. The first CISCE Semester 1 Board Examinations for grades 10 ICSE and 12 ISC were a very successful effort and stirred students to study and deliver work like before! Even as we ready this newsletter, the CAIE Boards have begun and there is hope we will complete the March Series successfully!

Our release of NAFL's Constitution of Kindness is a dynamic effort to strengthen team attitude towards work, emotions and relationships. May the care and optimism continue to grow. May we shape school into a brighter and more meaningful 'home away from home'.

Enjoy the buzz of Term 2 in the pages ahead!

Warm regards

SENIOR SCHOOL
STUDENT SPEAK

HOW DOES IT FEEL IN SCHOOL?

It felt great! I got to meet my friends and teachers. Felt a little strange too, I forgot how desks work for a millisecond, but other than that it was a great experience.

This is my first time attending a class in NAFL, so a completely new experience.

Nice, but felt tired at the end!

I liked how the interaction in class increased drastically and we all enjoyed being in the classroom!

Being able to make trouble in class again!

Just the whole experience of being back to almost normal and getting to see everyone face to face!

I had less distractions, so I concentrated better.

It took some time for me to get used to it but seeing my friends made it better.

Felt really nice to interact with people without a screen in between!

Offline school makes it easier to understand the chapters, communicate with our fellow peers and our teachers.

EVERYTHING ABOUT IT WAS AMAZING AND FUN!

The teachers have been so kind and helpful, loved meeting all my new friends as well.

Very nostalgic! Good to get back and a little sleepy and lethargic too!

Caring for the Oceans

Like Father Like Daughter! Aravind Tharunsri speaks....

“As a scuba diver, I have been witnessing the extent of pollution on the marine ecosystem. So, the least I could do is to create awareness and to do clean-ups, which is in my capacity,” says Aravind, a professional scuba diver since 2007.

“I have been doing ocean and shore clean-ups for over 17 years and have collected around 10,000 kg of plastic waste,” he adds.

Aravind is accompanied by his daughter, Thaaragai Aarathana, in cleaning beach areas and the waters. “My daughter and I are in it together. We have collected over 600 kg of plastic bottles till now, which we sell to plastic scrap shops, who later recycle the same. Thaaragai now wishes to donate the money raised from selling plastic waste to the Department of Environment, Tamil Nadu.”

The ocean's little girl...

Thaaragai Aarathana, the eight-year-old eco-crusader, drew attention to her ongoing battle against water pollution, on National Girl Child Day (24 January 2022). She set a record in Assist World Records Attempt for swimming an 18-km stretch from Covelong to Neelankari under the theme, 'Save the Ocean'.*

"It was raining when I started swimming, I had cramps under water, it was extremely cold, but I enjoyed the seven-hour journey. Being in and around waterbodies excites me to do more for its future," shares the class 2 student of Ellen Sharma Memorial Matriculation Higher Secondary School, Karapakkam.

Making way for marine life

Besides her regular activities, Thaaragai has been raising awareness on Dugong — an endangered marine animal. "The world underwater is something all of us should explore. The colours, shapes and size of aquatic species are so diverse and impressively engrossing. Once you witness that beauty comes to life, you wouldn't want to destroy it. We should be living in harmony with them. Instead, we've only been harming and polluting them in all possible ways," she shares.

PRODUCT LAUNCH

Grade AS
IN THE SPOTLIGHT

The AS Business Students were pushed to come up with a new product or improve an existing product from the food industry. The opportunity to explore business acumen and creativity while applying key concepts of finance, operations, and marketing, took the class to the next level. Product prototypes, accurate cost break-up, product pitch, presentations...were all part of the deal.

Other aspects they had to review, calculate and present...

- Expected profit margins
- Pricing decision with justification
- Information on competition.
- Feedback of their product based on primary research
- Marketing strategies [including promotions and supply chain]

After months of online schooling, this event at school set the class alight!
